

CHARACTER:

The Sun in Aries represents new beginnings. The native is full of enthusiasm and creative energy and is ready to apply this energy to initiate new enterprises. Never intimidated by failure, the native is always ready to overcome obstacles and seek new challenges. These people have a strong desire to lead the way for others, finish first and prove themselves more through actions and deeds than through words. As a rule, they may "get their feet wet" in many different things without realizing the commitment or giving the complete attention necessary to succeed.

Sun sextile Moon confers a harmonious union between the conscious and subconscious. Having good ties with their parents, natives will understand how to be good parents themselves. They are stable, self-reliant, and value loyalty.

DISPOSITION:

"Freedom" is a keyword to describe natives' disposition, freedom in what they both do and say. These persons never hesitate to say what they think, particularly if it's something which they feel strongly about. They frequently cast tact and conventionality to the wind when making an important point. Like others with the Moon in Aquarius, natives are naturally friendly and open to their fellow man. Love of liberty makes them sympathetic to others, particularly since natives hope to release them from the strictures of ordinary life which they see society placing on all people.

Moon sextile Sun natives are independent minded and happy with themselves. They get along well with others. They are very diplomatic and establish friendships easily (particularly with members of the opposite sex).

MENTALITY:

With Mercury in Aries, natives have a highly active mind and do not hesitate to voice many original ideas. When speaking, they tend to be very animated; energetic hand gestures and facial expressions are not uncommon, and they may frequently "go off" on a topic with little background knowledge. As a rule, natives are impatient with people or things which take a long time to decide upon something. But the impulsiveness of their thought process makes it difficult for them sometimes to carry out all ideas completely. They are good at starting things without waiting for the end.

Mercury sextile Venus bestows a harmony between the mind and feelings, instilling literary, artistic and musical talent into natives. They are likely to sing well and may compose music.

Mercury square Neptune natives tend to day dream too much and be unable to concentrate. They tend to be impractical idealists and have secretive natures. If they focus their energy constructively, their keen insights take them far.

AFFECTIONS:

Venus in Gemini marks those who think "variety is the spice of life". Usually, it's difficult for natives to settle down in one romantic relationship as their interest in others generally flits about between several loved ones. These people may show a surprising lack of discrimination in the people whom they consider special in their life. Also, natives' charm and wit tends to attract large circles of friends whom they feel comfortable with. As a rule, those they call friends and lovers have keen and grasping intellects through which they express affections.

Venus sextile Mercury natives are calm, diplomatic and friendly. Although they are good communicators, they are apt to be superficial unless the rest of the chart contradicts this.

Venus trine Mars natives are kind and loving, and usually very sociable. They attract members of the opposite sex and tend to attract good financial fortune as well. They tend to be energetic and artistically inclined.

PERSONALITY:

With Cancer rising, the natives' personality is marked by strong emotionalism. These people tend to react to events and people more through feelings than through rational thought. Also, they are very sensitive to friends and lovers and will do much to show concern for and protect their feelings, sometimes being overprotective of loved ones. Home and family are extremely important to natives. Like the Crab, when trouble comes they tend to scurry to a secure place. When they feel free from danger, though, these people do well, throwing themselves into work or problems with great determination, for success is important to them. However, natives must not consider success just as being on the material level.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

A balanced number of planets in Fire Signs in the native's chart indicates a blending of realism and compromise, making for a diplomatic yet assertive individual.

A balancing of the Earth elements in the natal chart gives practicality and common sense to all endeavors undertaken.

A balance of planets in Air elements indicates a rational mind with a need for intellectual stimulation.

Furthermore, the lack of planets in Water elements gives the native an air of stoicism and an inability to express emotions which are buried beneath the surface.

With many planets in Cardinal modalities, a person is capable of acting alone, and usually has a good grasp on the world and its realities.

Lastly, the native may be inclined towards getting his way without considering others opinions or feelings, since there are few planets in Mutable signs.
